

SUNDAY EVENING POST, N. Y. HOTEL, LAWRENCE MAN, LEAD

F. J. LEE'S NOT CRASED

3 Fred Lee, manager of the Colonial Theatre at Lawrence, died of a heart attack at a Broadway hotel, with his wife at his side, on Wednesday night. He was 45 years old and had been in the theatre business for 15 years. He was a native of New York and had been in the theatre business for 15 years. He was a native of New York and had been in the theatre business for 15 years.

A woman who gave her name as Mrs. M. Lee, 100 West 10th street, New York, after a quick examination, said that she was the wife of Fred Lee, who had been in the theatre business for 15 years. She was a native of New York and had been in the theatre business for 15 years.

At the Hoffman House, it was learned that Mrs. Lee had been in the theatre business for 15 years. She was a native of New York and had been in the theatre business for 15 years.

One of the questions features of the case was the money found in his pocket, although he was in the habit of carrying quite large sums. It was believed that the money was for the theatre business.

15 NET GAIN FOR STURROW IN 21 WARD

A complete recounting of the votes of twenty-one wards gives James J. Sturrow a net gain of fifteen, according to the chairman of the Election Commission. REPORT MANY DEAD IN STEAMER WRECK

ROME, Jan. 29. A dispatch from Anzio today says a large steamer, whose name is unknown, has come ashore in a storm off the coast, and that many bodies are being washed ashore.

JUDGE MAKES NEW RULE FOR DIVORCE CASES

It is a somewhat satisfied that there are something two sides to this international divorce case; that is why I called in the judge of two women seeking divorce in order to hear their stories.

Judge King made this statement in the divorce session of the Suffolk Superior Court today after listening to the details of the case of Mrs. M. Lee, who was a native of New York and had been in the theatre business for 15 years.

Boston Lines Join Other Big Systems in Declining Increase, but Conferences Are Asked for by the Officials.

First reports in today from the general conferences between officials of Eastern railroad systems and committees of the conductors and trainmen show that the New York Central Railroad and the Boston & Albany, controlled by the Central, have turned down the request of the men for better working conditions and an increase of wages.

The conference for the Boston & Albany two days ago at the North Station. The Boston & Albany conference was at the North Station. The New York, New Haven & Hartford officials met the committee of its employees at the general offices of that system in New Haven.

BRIDGE ROBBER KEEPS SILENCE

Charged with assault with intent to rob, Joseph Josephson, was refused to get the police where he lives, was ordered held in the South Boston District Court today, to await the action of the Grand Jury, and was jailed. Josephson is charged with attacking John De Groot, while the latter was crossing the railroad bridge between the city and the suburbs. When the crossing refused to hold up, Josephson, who was armed with a knife, attacked and severely lacerated the bridge, and was arrested and held for trial.

INDIGESTION, HEARTBURN GAS AND STOMACH HEADACHE GO.

There would not be a case of indigestion here if readers who are subject to stomach trouble knew the tremendous antacid and digestive virtue contained in Dispepsia. This harmless preparation will digest a heavy meal without the slightest fuss or discomfort, and relieve the sourness and flatulence in five minutes, besides overcoming all pain, nausea, and other ailments.

Many other bad symptoms; and, besides, you will not need laxatives to keep your stomach, liver and intestines clear and fresh. If your stomach is sour and full of gas, or your food doesn't digest, and your meals don't seem to fit, why not get a potent case from your druggist and make life worth living? Absolute relief from stomach misery and perfect digestion of anything you eat is sure to follow five minutes after, and, besides, one case is sufficient to cure 50 cent cases of Dispepsia. Surely, a harmless, inexpensive preparation like Dispepsia, which will always, either at bedtime or during the day, relieve your stomach misery, and make life worth living, is a handy and valuable thing to have. Nausea, headache, biliousness, and could have in the house.

ROOSEVELT'S POSSIBILITIES AS NEXT SPEAKER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—That Theodore Roosevelt is being considered by Congress as the first speaker for the inauguration of January 20, 1910, is being reported by the members of the House and Senate. Representative Cocks of the First District, it is said, is willing to step aside in order to make room for the former President.

Several members of the New York delegation are anxious in favor of his candidacy, while others think that it would be an excellent way to keep him from coming through in New York State. According to the report President Taft is aware of the plan and has agreed to be present at a great reception to be accorded Mr. Roosevelt when he arrives in New York next June. It will be at this point, it is said, that the boom of Mr. Roosevelt for Congress and the speaker ship will be launched. It is known that the former President refuses absolutely to accept the speakership and that, leaving New York for his trip to Africa, he is not to be present. It is certain that Mr. Roosevelt has no intention to succeed Hughes. The Speaker of the House of Representatives is the one office in public life that he would like to hold. According to the information contained in the New York press, Mr. Roosevelt is not only a member of the House of Representatives, but he is also a member of the Senate. He is, however, not to be present.

NEW LAW MAY ALLOW SUNDAY BALL GAMES

Representative Jones of Worcester intends to introduce into the Legislature a bill to amend the law relating to the question whether Sunday baseball playing shall be made legal in this State. He says the bill is not intended to apply to professional baseball.

Mr. Jones's bill provides for submitting the question to the people of the State at the next election. The bill provides that the authorities in this city or town may, if they see fit, allow the playing of baseball on Sunday, and that the playing of baseball on Sunday shall be made legal in this State. 30 BANKERS WITH WALSH

LIVELY youth can Jan. 29 John
W. Walsh, once mayor of millions as a Polish American, is now No. 4841 in the Federal prison. Walsh makes the thirtieth member of the "bankers' club" in the century.

Arrested and convicted of misappropriating the funds of the Chicago National Bank, he has been sentenced to 10 years, which is practically a life term, as he is presently two years old.

Walsh's arrival here was no nothing.
It was a sensational incident, for when a photographer attempted to snap his portrait,
J. W. Walsh, son of the prisoner, threatened him to the legal limit, which was arrested. (See file) and the Journal was closed.

HOLD WOMAN BOOKKEEPER

Miss George E. Clark, of No. 84 10th street, Rochester, an attractive bookkeeper for the firm of Crawford, Plummer & Co., dealers in women's garments at No. 521 Washington street, walked in police headquarters today and surrendered herself to Inspector McLaughlin on a charge of colluding with $3,639.18 from one of its players.

Her arrest followed that of Alfred E. West of No. 929 Aylor street, Somerville, manager of the Crawford, Plummer & Co. store, who was held Tuesday in $3,000 bail on the same charge.

Clark was taken to a room in the city hall and placed in a room in the city hall. She made arrangements to procure bail and then appeared voluntarily. She made a statement to the police and was released in five minutes. The judge fixed bail at $1,000.

NEW STETSON CHURCH MIGHT

BE DISOWNED

That a new Christian Science church in New York would not be recognized by the Mother Church of Boston unless the new institution complied with the regulations of the denominations was the statement made to-day by Alfred Parlow, head of the Christian Science Publication Committee when he learned it was decided to establish a new church at a meeting of 500 of its adherents at Mrs. Augusta F. Stetson, posed head of the First Church of New York.

The meeting was held last night in the

CHADWICK IS HONORED.
By invitation of the Thomas Orchestra Association of Chicago, George W. Chadwick, director of the New England Conservatory of Music, has gone there to conduct the Chicago orchestra, which will present his Symphonic Sketches on Friday and Saturday. This is a signal honor for the Boston composer.

The arrest grew out of losses which certain creditors to have sustained for several months. The main office of Crawford Plummer & Co. is in New York, and the first in which was required to send monthly statements. It is claimed by the firm that on some occasions cash receipts were being partially credited, the balance being placed on charge account and that in May was $23,636.18 belonging to the firm and withheld.

Both Miss Clark and Manger West have denied any wrongdoing.

Waitress Fired for Her Beauty.
NEW YORK, Jan. 29. A beautiful real-hair blonde was missing from an uptown Broadway restaurant today. When a reporter asked the reason, the manager simply said: "She's fired on account of her looks." The beautiful, golden-haired waitress (rose fifteen minutes in "kidding" before they caught a Broadway sport to center his attention on the bill of fare.)

The fire broke out at 1:30. It started apparently in the wall between the kitchen and pantry on the first floor and worked down through to the bedrooms, according

What action would be taken by Mother Church and the Board of Direct if a new church should be established New York would depend entirely upon what sort of a church it was," Mr. Farlow said.

When he was asked whether or not the Sietonites who voted in favor of the "Friday" Sietonites will be disciplined by the Mother Church, Mr. Farlow said: "We don't know who these people were. I don't know of any act I don't think that any action will be taken by the Mother Church."

Joseph. Joseph was awakened by a shocking sensation. He and Samuel thought at first the smoke came from an engine pipe on the railroad tracks nearby, but they found the loathsome smell was warm. Their flames had turned through the chimney into the room.

Joseph ran to the fire alarm. Samuel rescued his parents and then went downstairs to the Schindlers' house. Then he went back upstairs and found his mother and father and the six-week-old baby in the flames. Joseph's last effort was to take his mother to the door. After that he took out Mrs. Albert, who has become Mrs. Elizabeth, and then he saved completely the rest of the Borstein family.

Return to the House.

Memorable Isaac Schneider, his eldest son, Israel, and his oldest daughter, Rita, with their mother, had straggled away around the three jagged corners and hugged them over to the nearest street.

All the Schindlers, as well as the Borsteins, were waiting and full of sympathy for the rescued and full of grief for the dead. Mrs. Borstein and her loved ones had been offered from the street.

The dozen women with the Ranges for the street before putting them out. The women in the middle and back of both Stages were burned out. After the fire was put out the firemen tried to make the two families comfortable in the undamaged rooms. But they were given the rest of the night.

IRISH LEAGUE MEETING.

Joseph and Samuel, the Irish League of America, will hold a meeting this evening at the American House. Amosette, city, president of the British, will preside.

STATE STREET, Jan. 20.—There was a disposition to go out of other stocks this morning, and prices were reactionary. The further trading in New York was a depressing effect on local speculative circles, and no trading of prices was at all improved.

Lake, North Lake and North Butte were the active stocks and while support was met in most cases, prices were reactionary. North Butte, which advanced a fraction from the previous day, fell to 4 1/2.

Lake fell 2 1/2 points to 10 1/2, and North Lake fell 1 1/2 to 11 1/2. The latter was supported by a large order, and the former by a smaller one. The latter was supported by a large order, and the former by a smaller one.

Following is the range of prices for the leading New York stocks:

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Following a strong opening, stocks here were weak today because of apprehension over possible fall in prices that may result in the standard bonds in London, and from the fact that the market was not supported by the usual volume of business.

Stocks were active and in the course of the morning, Am. T. & P. Co. and Am. T. & P. Co. were the most active.

SAL. Jan. 20.—At a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen held at 9 o'clock today, the appointment of Simon B. Harris as city marshal was confirmed by a vote of four out of the seven members.

The four aldermen supporting the new Mayor, Arthur Howard, are the good and honest men, and it showed that they were in favor of the best of the city government.

Thomas E. Shea and his company last night presented "The Belle" at the Grand Opera House. Mr. Shea took the part of Mathias. The big crowd who saw him was astonished at the great variety of his songs. For this is the third play he has produced this week.

Several nights of applause showed how well the audience appreciated Mr. Shea's efforts in the leading role of the doublet at No. 10 North street, Cambridge. Mr. Shea was well met for the day, and the condition of his husband is not regarded as serious.

Mr. Minnie Stark is being at the Cambridge Bridge Hospital as the result of a fall while she was visiting her mother. She was hit by a car while crossing the bridge. She is now recovering from her injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Stark occupy apartments on the second floor of the dwelling at No. 10 North street, Cambridge. Mr. Stark was well met for the day, and the condition of his husband is not regarded as serious.

"There Is NO Unsubsidized Press"

So Says Mr. S. T. G. But He Is Wrong

Copyright, 1910, by S. T. G. and the Boston American

Once, "in the dear dead days beyond recall," we got a letter from Mr. S. T. G. ("whoever he may be," as the angel at the Gate remarked when they told him that Mr. Middle of Philadelphia was outside). We meant to print Mr. G.'s letter and reply to him. Time passed, and it was neglected here now are the letter and the soft answer:

My Dear Sir—The writer has been a regular reader of the Boston American for a number of years. The principal elements which have appealed to me were its APPARENT fearlessness of purpose; claim to absolute impartiality in its exposition of truth, wherever found; and readiness to publish articles of universal interest from contributors.

There appeared in your columns a lengthy article from Booker T. Washington. His theme, "Justice," excited my unusual interest. To those unacquainted with the conditions prevailing in the South, in striking contrast to those existing in the North, such an article is calculated to convey an entirely erroneous impression of the facts in both places. Thinking I might

Mr. S. T. G., we can forgive the mother who thinks that her baby has been snubbed in the distribution of baby show prizes. We also forgive the excited gentleman who thinks his literary baby has been snubbed in the distribution of publicity prizes. We are sorry your feelings were hurt by the fact that your article was not published. The gentleman to whom you address your remonstrance never saw your article; he isn't able to see a very large percentage of the thousands that are submitted. If we tried to print all of the well-written articles that we receive, to say nothing of the badly written and tiresome articles, we should have to multiply the size of this newspaper by ten, and leave out everything else, EVEN THE INTERESTING ADVERTISEMENTS and comic pictures.

Your letter was not published, probably because it was not interesting, or did not seem interesting to the editorial employs who read it. Sometimes mistakes are made and very valuable things are sent away unprinted. Perhaps yours is one of them. We printed what Mr. Booker T. Washington had to say because his statement came along when people were thinking about the riots at Springfield—and his contribution was what is called "news and timely."

Your article was not kept out by the use of plutocratic gold. Nobody came down and said: "Here are millions for you to put in your little pocket if you will guarantee to keep S. T. G.'s article out of the paper." If the rejection of your article is the only basis of your belief that "there is no unsubsidized press in this great city," cheer up.

Feebleness of the Fight Against Monopoly

The ragging of the factional spirit threatens to destroy the usefulness of the Sixty-first Congress and to sacrifice the gravest interests of the country. The Republican party is in power—and its responsibility on its hands. This power—with its obligation—was conferred upon the party under an express agreement with the people that it would carry on a great work that had been well begun. It was to fight the people's battle against monopoly.

Of course, the country has a right to rely upon the fulfillment of this pledge. And, of course, rival factions within the party have no right to plead their differences over the best way of fighting the battle as an excuse for not fighting it at all. Unite your friends and divide your enemies is the motto of the monopolists. And the tares of discord that grow toward a fatal division in the only political organization that has actual power to save, if not seen by the monopolists, are certainly being watered by them.

"Surely an enemy hath done this!" How else shall the factionalist explain when he returns empty handed—pleading that he has been so busy fighting the Cannon clique that he has had no time to attend to legislation for the whole country?

It will not do to wait for another year or for another Congress. The gourd of privilege will not wait. And the growing taxing power of monopoly is making life unbearable to multitudes. If the party with a commission to fight monopoly cannot get together, the privileged interests can—and will.

Mr. Taft has suggested to Congress—as was his right and duty—certain well-considered plans for strengthening the national authority over trusts and the commerce of the States. It is not the duty of either "regulars" or "insurgents" to follow blindly the President's lead. BUT IT IS THEIR DUTY TO DO WHAT THE PRESIDENT SUGGESTS, UNLESS THEY CAN DO SOMETHING BETTER IN THE SAME LINE. If they fail, neither their regularity nor their insurgency will save them from the chastisement of the voters.

Mr. Cannon is not the Republican party. And the mere fact that the insurgents are opposed to Mr. Cannon gives the regulars no sufficient excuse for reading them out of the organization. On the other hand, the statementen who are so eager to win the title of Progressives should prove their right to it by making some progress. It is because the American sympathizes to the full with those who are determined to break the power of Cannon and Aldrich that we urge immediate legislative action against the power of Privilege.

For Privilege power and the Cannon-Aldrich power are one and the same thing. These two men have secretly stood at the postern gate of Public Right, and again and again have opened the way for the invasion of Privilege. The way to defeat Cannon and Aldrich is to pass—over their heads—the laws that will put their lawless masters in leash. There is no other way.

To allow them to stop the course of remedial legislation by dividing the forces of reform is to let them do what they dearly want to do. PULL YOURSELVES TOGETHER, GENTLEMEN, AND SCATTER THE RANKS OF MONOPOLY.

Can You Blame Him?
